Council Discusses Stop Signs, Will Consider Transit Routes

by Charles T. McDonald

At its regular meeting Monday, February 5, the city council chose not to give final approval to an amendment to the municipal traffic regulations providing additional stop signs at five different intersections. Two letters from citizens along Lakeside Dr. and Maplewood Dr. expressed opposition to the three-way stop signs proposed for that area, and Councilman William Hoff did not feel the need of the four-way stop signs at Research and Ridge. Council sent the ordinance back to city manager Jim Giese for further study on the need for these signs.

The Parks and Recreation Advisory Board submitted recommendations concerning the establishment of policies for city park and recreational facilities, one having to do with the clarification of regulations for boat permits on the lake and others with regulating picnic permits at the lake. Councilman Francis White recommended that council should have additional information on the restriction that the Federal aid in the purchasing of the land might impose on the park land. Action was deferred until a later meeting.

Rapid Transit

Ed Wuermser, Chairman of the Advisory Planning Board, sent in a report on a hearing of the proposed Rapid Rail Transit System. He advised that there is a concerted effort by Langley Park Merchants' Association to get either a branch line or a main line to run through the Langley Park area. If this line were routed that way, it might direct the line away from Greenbelt entirely. Wuermser recommended that city council go on record as endorsing the Rapid Rail Transit System to run to the vicinity of Greenbelt on the B. and O. railroad track. The item was carried over to the next meeting.

A request from Greenbelt Homes, Inc., that city council join with them in appealing the court's ruling on their suit against the Board of Education did not meet with any favorable response, but a report was requested from city solicitor Emmett H. Nanna on the advisability of joining with GHI.

Assembly Bills

An interesting discussion took place under the review by council of bills before the State Legislature which are of special concern to the Greenbelt area. Council recommended approval of Senate Bill 16, which provides for improved procedures for the disposal of abandoned motor vehicles. S. B. 19 and 20 authorizes the State to borrow a million dollars to be used to aid in the purchase of open space. State grants under this plan amounting to 25% of the total cost of land purchased. S. B. 41 provides that a 2/3rds vote of the District Council is necessary to zone contrary to the recommendation of the municipality.

Because of the suggestion of city solicitor, Nanna, present at the meeting, bill S. B. 42, making it a felony to assault, beat or strike a police officer in Prince Georges County, was not approved pending on exact definition of word assault.

A request for the transfer of funds in the replacement fund for the purchase of an additional salt-spreader for snow and ice removal brought forth the question of advisability of the purchase at this date; approval was withheld until a clearer report as to the need is available.

The city manager was asked to prepare a comparative study for the last several years as to which Departments have required the most transfer of funds from other sources during the budget year.

Library Assn. Elects

The board of the Greenbelt Library Association, which was formed several years ago to assist in the community's drive for adequate library facilities, has requested the County Library Board's approval to plan a ground-breaking ceremony for Greenbelt's new building. The city council has also been asked for its support in the undertaking.

The board voted to fill in the existing vacancy created by the departure of G. K. Hodenfield, naming Dr. David Stern as his successor. Other members elected by the citizens' group at the Association's formation are Frank Lewis, chairman; Mrs. Clifford Simonson, secretary; Mrs. Bruce Bowman; Mrs. Harvey Geller; Leo Gerton; and Charles McDonald.

Junior High PTA

The regular monthly meeting of the Greenbelt Junior High School P.T.A. will move its Tuesday night meeting to Thursday, February 8, at 8 p.m. for the special Space-mobile lecture-demonstration presented by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration.

Under the direction of NASA representative James Stone, a discussion and demonstration of the principles governing America's space hardware will be presented. The program is designed to acquaint the public with the major accomplishments and future objectives of this country's space program.

Ninth grade students are invited, provided they are accompanied by their parents.

The meeting will be held in the Greenbelt Junior High Cafeteria.

Baltimore Symphony to Begin Concert Series

The Baltimore Symphony Orchestra continues this year to present concerts in Prince George's City, under the sponsorship of the Baltimore Symphony Society of Prince George's County. Whereas last year's series of concerts was held in Greenbelt, this year's will take place in the new auditorium of Prince Georges Community College in Largo, with the first concert scheduled for February 28.

A subscription drive for the concerts by the Symphony Society was opened in a kick-off dinner on Sunday, February 4. The success of this dinner typifies the county-wide enthusiastic reception of this year's three-concert series. With 128 workers and guests present at "Mr. Kelly's", the dinner officially got the membership drive under way, and present reports indicate that the sales have already reached the half-way point.

Headquarters for the drive have been set up at the Consumers Supermarket in Capital Plaza, with hours from 12 to 4 every day except Sunday, to continue through the day of the first program. They may be contacted by dialing 772-1717.

The county organization is an outgrowth of the Greenbelt Symphony Society which organized last year's series. Albert Herling has been elected President of the new group, with Bruce Bowman as treasurer and several other Greenbelters on the enlarged board.

Band Concert at Armory

The Rockville Municipal Concert Band will present a combined concert Band on Monday, Feb. 19, at 8 p.m. at the Greenbelt Armory. The Rockville Band, which is sponsored by the City of Rockville Department of Recreation, is directed by Frank R. Troy, Jr., a teacher at the Greenbelt Junior High School. Director of the Greenbelt Band is Howard Carle.

The program for the concert is as follows:

Star Spangled Banner

Peanut Vendor - Moises Simons
Poet and Peasant - v. Suppe
Sound of Music - R. Rodgers
HOWARD CARLE, CONDUCTOR

Speakers Bureau List

The University of Maryland Speakers Bureau has published a new listing of nearly 200 faculty and staff members who are available, upon advance request, to address civic, educational, religious and service groups within the state.

Topics range from family and consumer interests to historical and scientific subjects.

The Speakers Bureau is a public service offered by the university. During the 1966-67 academic year, 192 speakers were provided.

A copy of the new brochure may be obtained without charge by writing Speakers Bureau, Room 17, North Administration Building, University of Maryland, College Park, Md. 20742.

The Police Blotter

The Greenbelt Police Dept. has offered its full cooperation to the county police in the Brae Brook murder case. Brae Brook is not within the Greenbelt corporate limits, and uses the name of Greenbelt for post office purposes only.

A youth is awaiting action of the Grand Jury in a case of robbery and assault and battery. It is charged that he snatched a woman's purse as she alighted from a bus, knocking her down and causing lacerations of the head and a broken finger. Officers Alvin Hall and P.F.C. Faulkner, in teamwork with other officers, after intensive investigation arrested a suspect and recovered $115. Juvenile court has waived jurisdiction.

Larceny has been reported of an outboard motor from a boat at the Springhill Lake boat park.

Police Chief Lane states that he is proud of the fact that 9 out of 14 of the men on the Greenbelt force are attending courses furthering their education. P.F.C. John Krob has completed a course on Investigation of Crime at the Southern Police Institute at Louisville. Officers Miskell, Malkey, and Kerr are attending courses given by the Prince Georges Police Dept. Officer Cencelose will be at the Maryland State Police Academy for 1 month. P.F.C. Krob, Officer Hall and Officer Van Valkenberg are taking courses on their own time and expense. P.F.C. Goodwin is continuing at the Univ. of Maryland and Officer Salvatore at Mt. Vernon Law School.

Federal funds have been approved toward costs of a new sight and sound training program which will be used daily at each roll call.

Four boys and two girls, ages 13 - 17, were found drinking in a wooded area. Police talked with the parents of all of them.

Two juveniles were apprehended in a stolen car and will be brought before Juvenile Court.

In January there were 28 juvenile and 33 adult arrests. In addition there were 118 traffic arrests with written warnings to 297. There were 16 accidents.

In January, 12 animals were impounded and 9 persons were charged with violations of ordinances relating to animals.

Greenbelt residents are asked to note that solicitors operating in the city are required to have City of Greenbelt permits as well as county permits. A solicitor in the Boxwood area, who did not have a city license, was admitted by a four-year-old. He entered and stole approximately $150 from the mother's pocketbook. He was apprehended the next day and charged with larceny.

The radar unit was in operation last week on Lakeside Dr. during rush hour traffic. Only seven vehicles were found to be speeding, averaging 32 m.p.h. Warnings were issued to these motorists, six of whom were residents of the street.

GCPV Elects Officers

New officers of the Greenbelt Committee for Peace in Vietnam, elected at a meeting on January 29, are: Bertram Donn, chairman; Esther Webb, secretary; and Irene Hensel, treasurer. Miriam Cornelius will be responsible for publicity.

The Greenbelt Committee is affiliated with the newly organized Prince Georges Peace Council, which also includes such groups as the Dissenting Democrats, Women Strike for Peace, Concerned Citizens of College Park, and the Southern Prince Georges County Voters for Peace.

The GCPV said that in view of the increasing number of citizens who disagree with the administration's handling of the war in Vietnam, it plans to issue as a public service timely factual briefs on the Vietnam controversy.

B'NAI B'RITH BRUNCH

Former Congressman Carlton Stokles and H. Brenner will be the featured speakers at a membership brunch to be given by the B'nai B'rith Brotherhood Lodge at 10 a.m., Sunday, Feb. 18, at the Springhill Lake Community Center, Springhill Drive. "Can laws tear down ghettos?" will be the topic discussed by a panel of Maryland civil rights leaders February 15, 8 p.m., at the University of Maryland Student Union, room 120. Admission is free.

The panel will include State Senator Royal Hart, Elliot Liebow, author and anthropologist, and representatives of the County Commissioners and of area fair housing groups. Dr. Stanley Pavey will moderate.

Greenbelt Grab-bag . . . by Punchin' Judy

There has been a song about Ramona, about Barbara Allen, about Laura, about Michelle, and now, finally, there's "Judy in Disguise (With Glasses)." As our gentle readers will readily acknowledge, Punchin' Judy can freak out at the drop of a metaphor, and when she saw the above named record at her favorite disc dispensary, she had an immediate hallucination, wide screen and in glorious technicolor.

Here is Punchin' Judy, in disguise (with glasses), mild-mannered girl reporter on the Greenbelt News Review, ducking into a handy telephone booth. She whips off her spectacles and emerges in sky-blue bunny pajamas. On her cape is her famous emblem: SUPER JUDY! Up in the sky - look! It's a bird, it's a plane, it's . . .

"Do you wish to purchase this record, madam?" The salesman's words ended our trip. We paid for the record and hurried home to try it on our hi-fi. Well, sir, the beat was great, but we were quite unable to make out the lyrics. There was something about cars and lemonade, but in spite of these innocuous words, we got the general impression that our straight-laced governess wouldn't have approved. Of course, we never had a governess, but we've been reading a lot of regency romances lately. Actually, the cheerful girl that cared for us while mother worked was a free-wheeling farmer's daughter, and to her we are indebted for having our infant years enriched by a fascinating store of miscellaneous information.

But we digress. Something about his record makes us feel it is of the "tsk tsk" variety, and our suspicion is not mitigated by the song on the flip side, which is entitled "When the Lights Go Out."

Our teen-ager accepted the situation with his usual aplomb. "Al-ways figured you'd wind up in the comics," he sighed resignedly. "But," he cautioned, "If you're going to go in for this long-underwear type super-hero stuff, you'd better keep your glasses on. You'll look better."

We don't know if we'd look better, but one thing is sure: We'll see better.

CUB SCOUT PACK 746

Handicraft articles made by members of Cub Scout Pack #746 are on display at Ben Franklin's this week to remind all boys that this is Boy Scout week. The display was arranged by three den mothers: Mrs. Gilbert Hudson, Mrs. Howard Hunt, and Mrs. William Lawson.

The annual Blue and Gold Banquet for the boys of Pack #746 and their fathers will be held Friday, March 1, at St. Hugh's Grenoble Hall, 6:30 p.m.

Over 60 boys of Cub Scout Pack #746 participated in the annual Pinewood Derby that took place at the Mowatt Memorial Methodist Church. The boys raced cars they had carved (with the help of their fathers) out of blocks of wood.

The double elimination competition was divided into three classes, one each for 8, 9, and 10-year-olds. First place winner among the 8-year-olds was Peter Hudson. He was followed by Mark Gilbert, 2nd, and Robert Lawson, 3rd place. Russell Maffay took first place in competition with the 9-year-olds. Second and third place winners were James Love and Patrick Barton.

First place position among the 10-year-olds was taken by Robert Hudson. Second and third places went to Paul Geiger and Dror Angel.

In the competition among the three first place winners, Russell Maffay emerged the grand champion.

NOTICE

GHI home-owners who are 65 years old and over and whose total income is $5,000 per year or less, may be eligible for relief from real estate taxes for the year 1968.

Please contact the Comptrollers' Office (474-6601) for the necessary forms to file with the County. The forms must be reviewed at Upper Marlboro by March 1, 1968.

City Notes

Through an agreement with a contractor who some time ago completed work on Ridge Rd., the city removed 25 sections of concrete pipe from Parcel 7 in exchange for acquisition of the pipe itself.

Besides removing the pipe, the Public Works Dept. performed a number of odd jobs: installation of two new lights at the Lake Park, one at the playground and a new ornamental light on a pole at the entrance road; completion of a "bus pad" on Crescent Rd. at Gardenway; repair of the crushed stone walkway along Ridge Rd. between Lastner Lane and Research Rd.; sealing of cracks in street pavements; and removal of leaves from gutters.

This week they began work to extend a stone drain between 52 and 54 Lakeside to the lake edge. (This work had been set aside earlier because of delay in delivery of the necessary drain tiles.)

The paving contractor returned to town this week and began pouring curbing at the fire house.

On Thursday, February 1, City Manager James K. Giese testified for the city at a hearing of the Maryland Senate Finance Committee in favor of two proposed bills which would provide $1,000,000 in state funds to assist in the purchase of open space land. These bills would supplement the present federal program.

Demo Precinct Chairmen To Be Elected April 8

The Democratic County Committee for Prince Georges County has announced that local elections for precinct chairmen will be held on April 8, 1968 instead of January 8, as originally announced.

No formal application is necessary; however, applicants must be registered Democrats, must live in the precinct they wish to represent and petitions to run must bear the names of 25 registered Democrats from their precinct. Applications must contain the name, date of birth, address and phone number of the person running for the office.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the Committee headquarters, 8505 Baltimore Boulevard, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. daily.

"MISHKAN TORAH"

The members of the Jewish Community Center, in their meeting on Sunday, January 21, voted a new name for their synagogue. A Hebrew name was selected, consisting of two words, and the final choice was for "Mishkan Torah" - the tabernacle (or also, dwelling place) of the Torah, which is the Hebrew name for the five books of Moses, regarded as the foundation of Jewish faith. Other names proposed included "Dorshay Emet" - Seekers of Truth - and "Migdal Tsion" - Tower (or stronghold) of Zion.

The new name will constitute an addition to the presently used "Jewish Community Center of Prince Georges County" rather than a replacement for it. It is intended to stress the synagogue activities of the center, instead of implying that it is mainly a center for secular community activities.

Take A Giant Step

To the Editor:

Do your readers know . . . they can obtain a copy of the proposed Maryland constitution by writing a post card to P.O. Box 211, Annapolis?

. . . that all the delegates from Prince Georges voted for the new document and are willing and anxious to discuss its provisions with any civic, social, religious or political group?

. . . that municipal-county cooperation is stressed for existing cities, but future ones will obtain their powers from the county?

. . . that Greenbelt could establish a voting age of 18 and that the new state-wide age would be 19?

. . . that they were represented in Annapolis by a College Park mayor, an Upper Marlboro attorney and a Bowie housewife?

As the housewife delegate, my four months in Annapolis were the most stimulating and challenging ones of my life. Not every item had my approval but I wholeheartedly endorse the new constitution as a whole. I urge the voters in Greenbelt to read it carefully, discuss it with others and discover its merits.

We will have the opportunity on May 14 to take a giant step toward better government in Maryland with a large "yes" vote.

Eric T. Braund

The Reverend Eric T. Braund, a former minister of Community Church for 11 years, died of a heart attack on February 3 in Springfield, Mass.

"Terry," as everyone called him, was at the time of his death a regional director of the National Conference of Christians and Jews for the Connecticut-Western Massachusetts region.

At the time of his call to Greenbelt Community Church in May, 1946, Mr. Braund was assigned to the Navy Chaplains Office in Washington, D. C. Under his leadership, many significant events occurred, including the building of a house of worship on the corner of Hillside and Crescent Road, which was dedicated on March 4, 1951. At a later period in his ministry, Mr. Braund took a leave of absence from the church and worked with CARE in response to his continuing concern for human needs and for an ecumenical church in the world. During his ministry, Mr. Braund was vitally concerned with and active in the total community life of Greenbelt, including leadership in equal rights and the brotherhood of men.

Following his resignation from Community Church in January, 1957, Rev. Braund accepted a position as director of the Philadelphia Office of the NCCJ, where he served until 1960. Later he served as associate general secretary of the Greater Philadelphia Council of Church and from 1962 to 1966, served as minister of the Central Schwenkfelder Church in Worcester, Pa.

Funeral services were conducted Wednesday afternoon, February 7, at the Schwenkfelder Church. Many of his Greenbelt acquaintances and friends attended.

He is survived by his wife, Ann, and daughter, Nancy, of Springfield, and son, Fred, of Louisville, Kentucky.

Memorial contributions are being received at Community Church. A memorial service is being planned.

Frustrated Smokers Unite

Fifty nervous and anxious people, frustrated by their inability to stop smoking, gathered together to participate in a recent five-day plan to stop smoking at the Washington Sanitarium and Hospital.

Fourteen office workers, consisting of businessmen and secretaries, represented the heaviest smokers, each having smoked two packs per day for an average of 21 years. Of the fifteen housewives in the group, the average housewife smoked 1½ packs per day for 17 years. The five-day program consists of films and lectures by a physician who describes the physiological problems of overcoming the smoking habit and prescribes a diet to rid the body of nicotine and reduce the discomfort of withdrawal. The second member of the team emphasizes the psychological aspects of smoking and coordinates group therapy response.

Of the 50 participants in the plan, 40 were able to overcome the smoking habit within five days. Reservations can now be made for the next five-day plan beginning Sunday, February 18. For maximum effectiveness, the class size will be limited. For more information, call 589-8800.

Junior Highlights

"Our school is as good as we make it." Greenbelt Junior High's motto makes a lot of sense, and this year its students are determined to make G.J.H.S. one of the best. Many can be found working on clubs, activities, and sports long after school has let out. Long practices and excellent coaching by Mr. Kernan have turned out a basketball team that's out of reach. With only two games to go Bears are heading for the championship, undefeated.

Clubs sponsor many activities for the students. For the past week the student councils traditional king and queen dance, "Sophisticated Sweethearts", has captured much of the school's interest. The dance is to be held this Friday night from 8 to 11. Parents are asked to pick up students promptly at 11.

Greenbelt Junior High has had the privilege of selecting three of its students to represent all Prince Georges' County in the National Conference on Citizenship. Sanjoy Banerjee, Greg Lomax, and Rhonda Baer will attend the conference aimed at promoting patriotism and education in America's youth.

Classes and homework still manage to occupy most of a student's time. Ten students received straight A averages: Carol Donnelly, Sarah Grombs, Karen White, Ruth Kastner, Julie Heizer, Santa Delavore, Eileen Karlander, Patti Rexon, Irma Majer, and Pam Williams.
